All-American Candidate Gavin Hedrick

If the old cliché "third time is the charm" holds true for Washington State's punter Gavin Hedrick, then look out opponents.

Gavin has steadily improved his punting since coming to WSU two years ago and his goals are set higher for this season.

As a freshman out of Costa Mesa, Calif., Hedrick was second in the Pacific-8 with a 41.1 average and 15th in the nation with a long of 60 yards.

His sophomore year was more promising. He set two punting records while leading the Pacific-8 and ranking fourth in the nation with 44.7 yards per kick average. His season long was an 83-yarder against California.

Distance is an important factor for a punter but the hang time is just as critical. And to Gavin that is his number one goal this season, to increase his hang time.

"I hope to have my hang time up to 4.8 or 5 seconds this fall," commented the psychology major.

And to get that additional height in the punt you need to concentrate.

"You have to be precise when punting," said the tall junior. "The way you drop the ball and the precise spot you hit it makes the difference in a lot of yards. The important thing with technique is to keep your body and leg in one straight line."

Gavin has had to prove himself to two different coaches to get where he is today.

In the fall of 1970, his high school coach wouldn't even let him try out for punter on the freshman team.

"My frosh year they had another guy they wanted to punt so they told me to forget it," Hedrick recalls. "Before the season started they only let me attempt two punts in practice. I never got a chance."

However, he got his break when the other kicker was called up to the varsity. With no one else left Gavin got the job and averaged over 40 yards per kick—a good average for anyone, let alone a freshman.

His days of playground kick ball and Pop Warner football had paid off. From there, things got even better. By the time he was a senior he was averaging 42.5 and was earning All-American prep honors as an outside linebacker.

He was All-League and All-County and played for the South in the Orange County All-Star Game his senior year.

Last winter Gavin was a passenger in a one car accident that put him in the hospital with a broken jaw and arm and damaged vertabras.

He bounced back and was in full swing for spring football in April. The 6-3, 186 junior had a good spring with punts in the distant 40's and some 50 yarders.

Gavin Hedrick . . .

- Fourth in the nation 1975.
- Led Pacific-8 Conference in punting 1975.
- Averaged 44.7 yards per punt 1975.
- Set school record with an 83-yarder in 1975 against California.

1976 FOOTBALL PRESSBOOK

The 1976 Washington State University football pressbook is published to assist sportswriters, radio and television broadcasters and other news media personnel.

At least one week before a WSU home game writers, photographers and broadcasters planning to cover the game should send their requests in writing to Sports Information Director, 104 Bohler Gym, WSU, Pullman, WA 99163.

Writers should make requests for Western Union Telex at their own local office. Sports Comm has agreed to staff all WSU home games. If a writer selects to use Sports Comm he should make his own arrangements prior to the game.

There are a limited number of telephones and telecopiers in Martin and Albi stadiums, so writers facing tight deadlines may want to install their own. Otherwise, telephone and telecopiers are available on a first come first serve basis.

Persons other than media personnel wanting a copy of the football pressbook should send $2.50 to Sports Information, 104 Bohler Gym, WSU, Pullman, WA 99163.

PRESIDENT GLENN TERRELL

Dr. Glenn Terrell is one of WSU's greatest fans and rarely misses a cougar football or basketball game because of this.

Dr. Terrell has been involved in university work throughout his professional life — a college teacher for 19 years and a university administrator since 1957. He is starting his ninth year as WSU's President.

A native of Tallahassee, Fla., Dr. Terrell received his B.A. degree from Davidson College, N.C., in 1942, his M.S. degree from Florida State University in 1948 and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Iowa in 1952.

He joined the University of Illinois, Chicago, faculty as dean of the college of liberal arts and sciences in 1963 and moved to the newly created position as dean of faculties in 1965. Dr. Terrell was inaugurated as WSU's seventh president March 17, 1968.

Co-author of the book "Contemporary Approaches to Creative Thinking," Dr.

Terrell has published many journal articles.

As past chairman of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, Dr. Terrell was nominated to the board of directors of the American Council on Education. He also is a member of the Executive Committee National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges; a member of the editorial board of Child Development Publications; a member of Sigma Xi; a member of the American Conference of Academic Deans; and a fellow of the American Psychology Association and the Society for Research in Child Development.

Since affiliating with WSU, Dr. Terrell has been named to the board of directors of the General Telephone Company of the Northwest. He also was appointed by Gov. Daniel J. Evans to head a special statewide committee on rural affairs.

Dr. Terrell, 56, is married. He and his wife Francine have two children.

Washington State University

Home of the 'fighting Cougars'

Founded in 1890, Washington State University became the land grant institution in the state.

Located 75 miles south of Spokane the home of the Cougars has more than 16,500 full-time students in its eight colleges and graduate schools. The teaching staff numbers more than 1,000 and provides a student-teacher ratio of 17 to 1.

High academic standing

The university enjoys a national reputation for high academic standing through important contributions to knowledge by its faculty and outstanding accomplishments in career fields by its graduates.

Many WSU staff members have been honored by Gugenheim awards and Fullbright scholarships; they have participated in international conferences; and they have served as consultants to state, national and foreign agencies. Many hold national and regional offices in academic and professional organizations and others have authored outstanding textbooks and scholarly studies.

Evidence of WSU's long-standing academic reputation is contained in the fact that it was awarded a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the national liberal arts honorary, in 1928. It also has a chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, a national scholastic honorary, as well as chapters of almost all the important national professional and scholastic societies.

A residential university

An integral part of collegiate life at WSU is the housing program. With nearly 65 per cent of the student body living in university operated residence halls or on-campus fraternities and sororities, Washington State is one of the nation's largest residential universities.

The Physical Sciences Building (left) which was completed in 1973 was the first in a long series of buildings for individual science areas. A 12-story building, it houses the departments of geology, physics and technical shops. A second phase of construction will provide lecture and classroom facilities.

A recent addition to student off-campus housing was completed this fall to house 403 students, increasing the University apartment's capacity to an all time high of 2,127.

The beautiful hilltop campus covers 600 acres and has nearly 100 major buildings.

The campus includes several important teaching and research facilities: A nuclear reactor, agricultural sciences complex, veterinary clinic, engineering, chemistry, physical sciences, fine arts, social science, speech and English buildings.

One of the most recent facilities at WSU is the Science and Engineering Library which opened this fall — six months ahead of schedule. A 7-story building, it will contain 315,000 volumes. This building is the first in a long range plan for controlled decentralization of library resources and serves into area libraries.

Under construction and scheduled for completion in 1977 is a 10 million dollar BioScience building, and due for completion in 1978 is a 12.9 million dollar Veterinarian Science building.

New student stands in 1975

Included in WSU's most recent improvement plans is the Clarence D. Martin Stadium and Academic Center which received its second facelift in 1975. The newly remodeled stadium seats 27,600 for football games.

The Performing Arts Coliseum (built in 1973) along with the newly remodeled Martin Stadium gives Washington State athletic facilities second to none in the Pacific-8 conference.

WSU, which opened its doors in 1892 with 21 students, is located in one of the world's richest agricultural regions. Beautiful geographic surroundings give WSU an ideal setting, one which allows students to pursue an education minus the hustle, bustle and crowded confusion of many metropolitan areas.

Here, near the Washington-Idaho border, WSU continues to serve the educational needs of the state and to carry on vital basic and applied research in a variety of fields.

Head Coach Jackie Wayne Sherrill

Washington State University hired its 24th football coach in history Dec. 26, 1975, when 32-year old Jackie Sherrill stepped out of the winning Pittsburgh locker room at the Sun Bowl to accept the assignment.

The Sun Bowl was one of eight he has participated on as either a player or coach.

The new Cougar Coach started his football career at Biloxi, Miss., where he was a prep All-American and had set his sights on returning to his native Oklahoma to play for the Sooners.

But Paul "Bear" Bryant made the short trip from Tuscaloosa to Biloxi, and after a two-hour chat, the thoughts of going to Oklahoma were gone, replaced by ones of Alabama and the Crimson Tide.

The Sherrill-Bryant-Alabama association proved mutually beneficial. During his career at Alabama, the Crimson Tide went to three Bowl games, and Sherrill was captain of the 1966 team that defeated Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Coach Sherrill . . .

Born: November 28, 1943

Hometown: Biloxi, Mississippi

College: University of Alabama

Coaching Experience: Assistant head coach University of Pittsburgh, Assistant head coach Iowa State, Graduate Assistant University of Arkansas and University of Alabama.

Hobbies: Flying, fishing, hunting, golfing, and reading.

He also began his coaching career at Alabama staying there one year before moving to Arkansas to work one season for Frank Broyles.

His next move was to join Johnny Majors at Iowa State in 1968, and he remained with Majors until taking the Cougar reins.

Majors first named Sherrill linebacker coach in 1969, but that only was the beginning. A year later he was appointed defensive coordinator and in 1971 he earned the assistant head coach title.

When Majors moved to Pittsburgh in 1973 he asked Sherrill to go with him as assistant head coach, defensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator.

Sherrill is the youngest of eight children and his real name is "Jackie." "Our part of the country is full of Bobby, Genes and Billy Joes," says Sherrill. He also admits the name has caused some confusion. In junior high his name was found on the female roster, and when he went to Alabama his records still were marked female.

"A football coach at Alabama said he was called on the carpet for giving the first football scholarship to a female," Sherrill remembers.

He started his collegiate career interested in medicine but switched to business. Although he earned a teacher's certificate, he helped out coaching as a graduate assistant.

"I found I enjoyed it. I guess the coaching kind of crept up on me," Sherrill says.

His stern looks and reputation indicate he is a strong disciplinarian. He is. But not without a sense of humor.

Once when Pitt was scheduled to play Florida State's Seminoles, Sherrill went to practice wearing an Indian outfit. He brought some tom-tom players and started dancing.

Majors, who was in on the joke, then whipped out a cap pistol and shot him.

Before a Navy game, Sherrill wore a sailor's cap that said "Sink Pitt."

Sherrill is married to the former Daryl Lynn Favro, who was a counselor at a Pittsburgh middle school before the couple moved to Pullman.

HOWARD TIPPETT

Defensive Coordinator

Defensive coordinator Howard Tippet is a veteran of the Cougar assistants.

Tippet comes to the Cougars directly from Jacksonville of the World Football League where he was the defensive coordinator for two years.

Before going to the pros, Tippet was the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for Mississippi State University, a linebacker coach at the University of Houston for five years and the defensive coordinator for the University of West Virginia for two seasons.

He began his collegiate coaching career at Tulane University, where he was a defensive secondary coach for two years.

Tippet was the captain his senior year at East Tennessee State University where he started at quarterback and safety.

After graduating from ETSU in 1959, Tippet coached high school football in Kentucky and Texas for five years.

Howard's wife's name is Peggy.

MICHAEL CHURCH

Defensive Line

It's not often a former All-American defensive back is asked to coach the defensive line, but for Michael Church the task is nothing new.

The last time he was asked to do it was at the University of Nebraska. During his three years with the Cornhuskers, Nebraska went to the Cotton, Sugar and Fiesta Bowls. All three years, the Cornhusker defense was considered among the best in the country.

Church went to Nebraska after a brilliant career at California Poly San Luis Obispo. A 5-9, 140-pound walkon from Hanford High in California, Church started his final three years.

He set the school's career interception mark, was defensive captain for two years and named honorable mention All-American his senior season.

When he left Cal Poly, he was considered the best defensive back to have played for the Mustangs.

Mike's wife is named Debbie.

DAVE CAMPO

Secondary

Another former Pittsburgh aide, Dave Campo will play the same role with the Cougars as he did at Pitt — coach the defensive backs.

Campo played at Central Connecticut where he played both ways as a back.

In his seventh year of coaching Dave had stints as an assistant at New London High School in Connecticut, Central Connecticut State College, Albany State University. Prior to going to Pittsburgh Campo was the defensive coordinator for two-time Division Three national champion University of Bridgeport in Connecticut.

Dave's wife's name is Margie.

ROD KIRBY

Linebackers

Rod Kirby is making his coaching debut this season with the Cougars — but don't let that fool you. He's played a lot of linebacker and Jackie Sherrill knows first hand.

Kirby, the Cougar linebacker coach, was discovered by Sherrill when he went to Pittsburgh with Johnny Majors. Kirby had previously sat on the bench for three years — and when Major took over at Pitt, he started Rod at linebacker.

Rod took full advantage of the opportunity and was named the team's Most Valuable senior, played in two all-star games and topped everything off by being named honorable mention All-American.

The Buffalo Bills drafted him following that senior year and he later was obtained by the New England Patriots but a knee injury ended his career.

Kirby was a prep All-American at Curwensville High in Pennsylvania where as a running back, he rushed for 1,092 yards his senior year.

Rod and his wife Nancy, were married last February.

BOB LEAHY

Offensive Coordinator

Jackie Sherrill didn't have to look far or too long for his offensive coordinator and quarterback coach. Coach Sherrill found exactly what he wanted in fellow Pittsburgh assistant Bob Leahy.

Leahy, who coached three years under John Majors at Pitt, brings a professional touch to the Cougar offense. Before becoming an assistant for Majors, Leahy was a quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers with Terry Bradshaw and Terry Hanratty.

Leahy signed as a free agent with the Steelers after being named a Little All-American at Kansas State Teachers College where he had re-written the passing record book.

Bob and wife Susan, have a girl, Kristine Elizabeth.

BILL CORDS

Tight Ends

Bill Cords enters his fourth year as a full-time assistant at WSU, after two seasons as a graduate assistant.

He came to WSU after an impressive career as a high school coach at Billings Senior High School in Montana.

Cords also played for former Cougar Coach Jim Sweeney at Montana State University where he started for three seasons.

Cords again will coach the tight ends and the offensive specialty teams plus heading up the academic program.

Cords and his wife Gwen have a daughter Lisa, 7, and a son Aaron, 2.

MIKE PRICE

Runing Backs

Mike Price, who will coach the running backs, is entering his fifth season as a member of the Cougar coaching staff.

Price originally served two years as a graduate assistant, then went to the University of Puget Sound as the offensive coordinator for the Loggers for two seasons.

Price returned to Pullman in 1974 and he's worked with the Cougar offense since.

Price played for the Cougars in 1965 and 1966 and then transferred to UPS where he received his degree in 1969.

Price, 30, and his wife Joyce have two sons, Eric, 9, and Aaron, 5.

DAVE WALKER

Offensive Line

Jackie Sherrill likes success and that's one of the reasons he lured Dave Walker from the Rose Bowl Champion UCLA to coach the offensive line.

Walker, despite being only 27, is no newcomer to Pacific-8 football. He's not only assisted at UCLA, but has coached at the University of Washington and his alma mater the University of Oregon.

At Oregon, Walker was one of the shortest defensive linemen in the Ducks' history. He didn't let his 5-6, 195-pound size bother him however, as he was a starter for two years and his senior year the Ducks finished second to Jim Plunkett-led Stanford.

Walker also was named to the Pacific-8 Academic Team, for excellence on the field and in the classroom.

In addition to Washington and Oregon, Walker also was an assistant for two years at Brigham Young University.

Dave's wife is named Nora.

"They'll fly high this season."

COUGAR OUTLOOK 1976

The Cougars will travel by air in '76.

Jackie Sherrill promised to throw the football when he accepted the head job at Washington State, and if spring practice is any indication, it will be up, up and away when the Cougars open their season Sept. 11 at Kansas.

Every spring scrimmage saw the football in the air 50-plus times and the completion ratio around 60 per cent.

Sherrill feels some of his best athletes are at quarterback and wide receiver, and the moving of Bob Gregor from the secondary to flanker gave the receiver corps even more depth.

John Hopkins, Wally Bennett and Jack Thompson will provide the arms while the receiver list includes starter Brian Kelly, lettermen Mike Levenseller, Bevan Maxey, Bob Bratowski, red shirt Jim Hagensen and sophomore Joel Cooper.

Bennett started the Kansas game, but suffered a knee injury in the third quarter and was through for the season. Hopkins started eight games, missing two because of broken ribs suffered in the opening series against UCLA, and Thompson demonstrated his ability to pass when he replaced Hopkins against the Bruins.

Hopkins finished with 1,022 passing yards while Bennett was 10-15 for 135 against Kansas and Thompson completed 16 of 34 attempts for 218 yards against UCLA.

Kelly led the Cougars and was ninth in the league with 28 catches while Levenseller came on strong at the end of the year. He finished with 11 catches and his 18.3 yards per catch tied Eason Ramson for the Cougars' lead.

"... they'll run, too."

To balance the passing, Sherrill returns Dan Doornink, who as a tailback, set a school sophomore rushing record of 607 net yards. Doornink, however, is expected to spend his junior season at fullback where he will be backed by red shirt Kesel Thompson and sophomore Mike Doerfler.

At the end of spring practice, Harold Gillum was at the No. 1 running back spot with Toby Tisby right behind. Both lettered as freshmen. Gillum broke a 79-yard run his freshman year and averaged 6.2 yards per carry in 21 tries while Tisby averaged almost 4.0 yards per try.

The re-construction of the offensive line began in spring practice and probably will continue over into the fall. Several of the incoming freshmen have the physical credentials to play, and will be given long looks this fall.

Bob Hill, who started all 11 games at left guard, is the only returning full time starter. Jon DesPois and Dave Tobin, who shared the center spot, also are back.

Other guard candidates include lettermen Larry Finan and Kevin Stephenson and Del LaLuc at tackle. In an effort to strengthen the tackle spots Sherrill moved Noel Barnes from defense and he worked both there and at center during the spring.

When spring drills ended Finan and Hill were at guards, DesPois at center and squad members Dave Lemke and Kevin Fidel were the No. 1 tackles.

Ramson heads the tight end candidates, and looked very impressive in spring practice. Backing him will be Ron Bull, who lettered as a freshman squad member, and Jamie Haase.

Changes in defense

The defense will have a new look as Sherrill plans a five-man front with two inside linebackers. The line, just as on offense, needs rebuilding and Sherrill came out of spring practice feeling he needs more depth at linebackers.

Tim Ochs, a three-year starter, is the only true veteran in the line, but sophomores Terry Anderson and George Yarno were pressed into action as late-season starters during their freshman debuts.

Dan Reardon and Tom Thompson, both sophomores, were holding down the end positions—which are similar to outside linebackers—at the end of spring practice with Ochs and Anderson at the tackles. Yarno, who suffered a knee injury that kept him out the final spring practices and Mark Chandless, another sophomore, were competing for the nose guard position.

The line will undergo further scrutiny in early fall and again incoming freshmen could work their way into the picture.

Backup line help already available include Gordon Huffman, Gary Knight, Barry Zanck, Ed Arnhold and Dave McVey, all non-lettermen. Lee Braach, who skipped spring practice while setting a school high jump record, also will be back and will press to start at one of the end spots.

Sophomores Terry Gilmore and Raleigh Fletcher were starting at the linebackers at the end of spring practice, but waiting in the wings are lettermen Jerry Payne and Dean Pedigo. Payne, who missed part of 1975 with a neck injury, missed spring ball with a lower back problem, but expects to be ready in the fall.

His return would do a great deal to bolster the linebacking situation.

Sherrill felt the secondary was one of the deepest positions on the team. Cornerback Ken Greene and safety Mark Patterson both return in starting roles, and Don Schwartz has considerable experience at monster. Patterson, however, suffered a knee injury that required surgery in spring practice. His return to form by fall again is expected but not assured.

In Patterson's absence the final two weeks John Troppmann and Art Galloway received a chance to display their wares and were impressive. Galloway was another of Sherrill's position changes that proved so successful. He had been a tailback for two years before moving to defense.

The kicking game will be among the best in the conference. Punter Gavin Hedrick led the Pacific-8 with a 44.7 average while kicker Chuck Diedrick set a school record with four field goals in the Kansas opener.

KANSAS OUTLOOK

Kansas returns 38 lettermen including 16 starters from last year's team that finished 7-5-0 overall including a 33-19 loss to Pittsburgh in the Sun Bowl.

Among the returnees are quarterback Nolan Cromwell and halfback Laverne Smith. Cromwell was the offensive player-of-the-year in the Big Eight last season after leading the league with 1,124 yards. Smith, the KU single season rushing record holder with 1,181 yards as a sophomore, appears destined to pass both Gale Sayers and John Riggins to become the school's career rushing leader. He needs just 611 yards to climb onto that plateau.

Leading the defense is massive tackle Mike Butler, a first team all-conference selection a year ago.

Kansas coach Bud Moore, the Big Eight coach-of-the-year in 1975, must rebuild a secondary and, in his opinion, find additional depth at linebacker and in the offensive line.

WISCONSIN OUTLOOK

Coach John Jardine hopes his Badgers can bounce back from last year's 4-6-1 record, and he has installed a new offense to help get things started.

He will run from the "Multiple T" this year as he feels he has a wealth of running backs. Included in this list are junior Mike Morgan, seniors Larry Canada and Ron Pollard and sophomore Ira Matthews plus three quarterbacks who are known as runners.

Jardine hopes Morgan can continue the tradition of having a Badger runner gain at least 1,000 yards for the seventh straight season. After having outstanding freshman and sophomore seasons, Morgan only gained 184 yards last year, but Jardine feels his "Multiple T" will make better use of Morgan's ability.

The Badgers also want to improve their defense which allowed almost 500 yards per game last year. Jardine has two good defensive ends in senior Pat Collins and Dennis Stejskal, and "Our secondary has some of the finest athletes it's ever had."

Stejskal led the Badgers with 111 tackles and twice was named the Midwest Lineman of the Week and made second team All-Big Ten.

IDAHO OUTLOOK

The key to the season will be the field generalship post vacated by all-Big-Sky Conference selection Dave Comstock.

The top contender will be junior Ken Schrom but he will be contested by JC transfer Craig Juntunen and sophomore Rocky Tuttle, who had a good spring practice.

There is depth at the running back position which is headed by Tim Lappano and junior back Robert Brooks. Lappano had big games against Nevada-Las Vegas (Idaho broke UNLV's 17-game win streak, 39-7) and Washington State where he rushed more than 145 yards a game.

Leading the way for the offensive line is all-conference contender John Yarno (brother of WSU's George Yarno).

The defense wall will be anchored by junior tackle Joe Pellegrini Jr. He had 50 tackles and 59 assists for last season.

USC OUTLOOK

Although USC lost four straight games after a 7-0 start last year, the Trojans have a big win to build on and a flock of talented, experienced players to build with.

The big win came in the Liberty Bowl, when Heisman Trophy candidate Ricky Bell led USC to a 20-0 blitz on Texas A&M, the nation's leading defensive team.

The experience which includes unanimous All-American Bell, and the return of 14 starters, eight on offense and six on defense among 28 lettermen. The Trojans only graduated 14 lettermen and eight starters.

The tireless Bell, the nation's leading rusher, accounted for an incredible 49.7 per cent of USC's total offense with his 1,957 yards on the ground. The 6-2, 218 pounder, represents 65 per cent of all the Trojans' rushing yards.

Senior quarterback, Vince Evans, is one of the 14 returning starters and returning in the backfield are fullbacks Dave Farmer, Mosi Tatupu and flanker Shelton Diggs.

Back-up front are All-American strongside tackle Marvin Powell, strongside guard Donnie Hickman, tight end Mike Howell and split end Randy Simmirin, USC's leading receivers.

UCLA OUTLOOK

Only 10 years from the starting role as a defensive tackle in the 1966 Rose Bowl game to head football coach at UCLA, 31-year-old Terry Donahue has his work cut out to follow Dick Vermeil's 9-2-1 record of last year, including the 23-10 win over Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

Included among 38 returning lettermen are 10 starters, equally divided on both offense and defense. The list includes Gus Coppens, 264-pound junior who started 12 games; 224-pound senior center Mitch Kahn, also a 12-game starter; and tight end Don Pederson, 226, who started nine. Also on offense are left half Wendell Tyler, an honors candidate and flanker Wally Henry, who tied two Rose Bowl pass-catching records Jan. 1.

STANFORD OUTLOOK

A year ago, Stanford coach Jack Christiansen headed into the football season with a very young team that included only eight returning starters. The Cardinals started slowly, but finished strong, winning five of their last six games on the way to a 6-4-1 record.

The situation is much different in 1976. Christiansen will have an experienced, veteran ballclub on hand, with 15 returning starters and 40 lettermen.

OREGON OUTLOOK

Oregon hopes to be a much improved football team in 1976 thanks primarily to an improvement offensively.

The Ducks have a veteran quarterback in Jack Henderson who was fifth leading passer in the country last year.

There will be more size up front with the influx of JC linemen, and the Ducks definitely have more speed with the addition of three JC tailbacks, any of whom could start in '76.

George Bennett, a two-year letterman fullback, returns to give strength up the middle after gaining 805 yards last year.

On defense, the Ducks need help at linebacker and must replace two defensive backs who gained first team all-Pac-8 honors in 1975.

OREGON STATE OUTLOOK

Oregon State hopes to have a much improved team over the one that posted a 1-10-0 record last year, one of the worst ever for the Beavers.

A new staff, headed by Craig Fertig and his USC winning background, felt that much was accomplished in spring drills. Wide open, however, is the quarterback spot. Last year's regular Kyle Grossart, was hurt and could not take part in spring drills.

Transfers John Norman and Dave White battled closely with holdover Jeff Kynaston in the spring.

Fertig brought in 20 JC transfers and 10 incoming freshmen to help him in his first season.

CALIFORNIA OUTLOOK

California just missed going to the Rose Bowl last year by one game, a 28-14 loss to Rose Bowl champion, UCLA.

Returning from that 8-3 team are 37 veterans.

Heading the list is Heisman Trophy contender Joe Roth, quarterback. Roth set several California single season and game marks. He passed for 1,880 yards and established a single passing mark of 380 yards.

Another key factor of Roth's is receiver Wesley Walker. The 1975 second team All-Pac-8 and All-West Coast member led the nation in average gain per catch with a 23.3 yard average and topped the Pac-8 in scoring as a receiver with 60 points.

Defensively, the Bears return eight starters. All-America linebacker Phil Heck will be joined by James Reed and Pete Sitta. This situation has been termed "outstanding" by coach Mike White.

With the loss of 31 senior letter winners from his 1975 team, what he termed, "a massive rebuilding program" will face Don James.

James, the 1975 co-Pacific-8 Coach-of-the-Year after an initial 6 wins, 5 loss and 5-2 Pac-8 record said, "We will have a lot of new faces in the lineup. Twelve or 14 freshmen may letter."

Back, however, are 28 lettermen including seniors Robin Earl, 6-5 250-pound fullback and Charles Jackson, 6-2, 225-pound middle guard. Others to watch include wide receiver Scott Phillips, quarterback Warren Moon, and inside linebacker Mike Baldassin.
